Last December our Geography teacher, Mrs. Taylor, took us to Yorkshire on a school trip. We left Liverpool at 8.00 a.m. on Saturday morning and finally arrived in York at 11.00 p.m. Then it started to rain.

We woke up early on Sunday morning and looked outside. There was water everywhere. We went downstairs for breakfast, but the kitchen in the hostel was flooded.

Sunday afternoon was terrible too. Two girls hired bikes and rode into the center of the city. But what did they do? They stole some sweets from a shop. So then the police came! Mrs. Taylor was furious!

We returned to Liverpool on Sunday evening. We were cold, wet and tired. Never again!

We are all destroying the earth. The seas and the rivers are too dirty to swim in. There is so much smoke in the air that it is unhealthy to live in many of the world's cities. In one well-known city, for example, poisonous gases from cars pollute the air so much that traffic policemen have to wear oxygen masks.

We have cut down so many trees that there are now vast areas of waste land all over the world. Farmers in parts of Africa cannot grow enough food to eat. In certain countries in Asia there is too little rice. Moreover, we do not take enough care of the countryside. Wild animals are quickly disappearing. For instance, tigers are rare in India now because a lot of them have been killed. Therefore, we must act now before it is too late to do anything about it. Join us now. Save the earth.

1. Why can't we swim in the seas and the rivers?

2. How is the air in many of the world's cities?

A. It is very pure.

B. There is so much smoke in it.

C. It is healthy for people to breathe.

D. All of them are incorrect.

3. What kinds of animals are rare in India now?

4. The result of cutting down trees in Asia and Africa is_____

A. farmers in parts of Africa cannot grow enough food to eat.

B. there is too little rice in Asia.

C. wild animals are not disappearing.

D. A and B are correct.
